NATURE. FREEDOM. PASSION.

EXPLORE THE GREEN PLAYGROUND OF EUROPE.

The Alps, the Mediterranean, the Karst and the Pannonian Plain are exceptional locations for exercising outdoors in nature. All these regions can be experienced in Slovenia, the world's first green destination, and the only country in Europe that combines such diversity. You can walk or cycle Slovenia from one end to another or stop and exercise in your own way in this exquisite green corner of the world.

The land is perfect for hiking amidst the incredibly diverse landscapes. It surprises with vistas across hills and valleys, ascents to Alpine peaks rising more than two thousand metres high and descents into Karst caves that lie more than 1,500 metres below sea level. Its image is green. You are visiting one of the most forested countries in Europe.

Water demonstrates its wealth of features here. The sea, lakes, rivers and streams make your wish for different forms of recreation. Adrenaline experiences and relaxation come true. Droplets sprayed from waterfalls refresh passers-by and drinking waters quench the thirst of the weary traveller. Mineral and thermal waters replenish strength for moving and exercising.

The air changes the appearance of this green country. In every season, it brings a different character to the views from the heights. Air masses and currents thrill those who sail among the clouds, birds or treetops.

Passion for movement takes us outdoor 365 days of the year. On 23 September, a state holiday dedicated to sports and recreation is celebrated in Slovenia. In green, active and healthy Slovenia, this Day of Slovenian Sport is also dedicated to the incredible achievements of Slovenian athletes who have been inspiring us for decades. We follow their lead with our own sports and recreational victories and challenges. Choose your activities for health and wellbeing.

ACTIVE. SPORTY. VICTORIOUS!

WE FOLLOW THE BEST

Let's cycle around the country of the best cyclists in the world! Let Primož Roglič, the winner of an Olympic gold medal, and Tadej Pogačar, the two-time winner of the Tour de France and an Olympic medallist, be our role models.

Let's discover the waters that Olympic gold medal winning canoeist Benjamin Savšek knows to the last drop, and Alenka Artnik, the world record holder in freediving. Let's ski and snowboard in mountain resorts where Žan Košir, a snowboarder with three crystal globes and four Olympic medals, trained. Let's run on skis in the venues where Jakov Fak, a silver Olympic medal winning biathlete, competed.

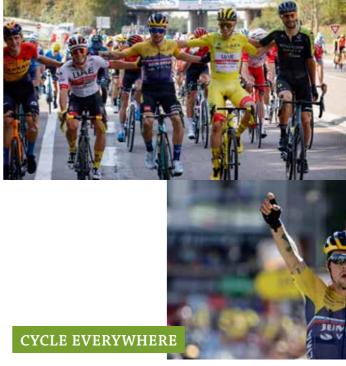

Let's conquer mountain peaks and steep walls that Olympic sport climbing champion Janja Garnbret also knows about. Let's find peace in ourselves, like judoka Tina Trstenjak, the winner of two Olympic medals, finds it again and again. Let's take care of our physical and mental fitness in Slovenia, the land of famous handball, volleyball and basketball players, such as the NBA star Luka Dončić.

LET'S DISCOVER THE LAND OF THE BEST

We follow the top athletes of Slovenia by choosing recreation that helps us maintain a healthy lifestyle. Let's take part in sport and recreational trials that satisfy our desires for our own achievements.

LET'S CHEER TOGETHER

We know how to support our sport heroes at matches around the world, and everyone can witness the passion of Slovenian fans at major international competitions hosted in Slovenia. See you at the great sport venues!

In Slovenia you have it all at hand. School is within walking distance, but just far enough for a kid that the way there can drag a bit. It seems to me that in Slovenia we all quickly master the bike, and then instead of just having it as a means of transport, we start to use it for the most beautiful type of exercise. The bike is great to get around faster when running daily errands, but when you're in need of a challenge, cycling trails are the choice that takes you to the most beautiful destinations.

PRIMOŽ ROGLIČ, cyclist, Olympic champion and three-time La Vuelta winner

JUMP HIGH

Champions

When I was a child, Ljubljana, the city of my childhood, had enough playgrounds and basketball hoops. Of course, I spent most of my time on the playground near my home. Once the passion strikes you, you see the hoops everywhere! But certainly in Slovenia, which is a heavily forested country, it is absolutely delightful to run along a forest path and to switch off surrounded by nature.

LUKA DONČIĆ, basketball player, NBA star

PASSION

TRY SOMETHING NEW

As a schoolkid, I loved football. When I got a bit older, our local cyclists took me with them for dry winter training and that's where it all began. The cycling races mainly take place in the summer, but I am also excited for winter, when I have the chance to try something new to stay in shape. Especially if it's outdoors, in nature.

TADEJ POGAČAR, cyclist, two-time Tour de France winner and Olympic medallist

COURAGE

EXERCISE TO BOOST YOUR ENERGY

PRIDE

Sometimes outdoor exercise gives me the energy to complete what I've started and other times it calms me down, so I'm not rushing around when I don't have to. I am lucky that my sport takes place outdoors. Perhaps the most important thing is to realise how important it is to spend time in nature, to spend time exercising. And admiring nature. Nature, especially Slovenia's clean, pristine environment always gives us what we need to rejuvenate or calm down.

ILKA ŠTUHEC, Alpine skier, two-time world champion in downhill

FIND PEACE WITHIN

Strength, knowledge and skill are one part of my story. The other, and probably more important part is finding peace within yourself to succeed on the tatami. When it gets overwhelming, you have to retreat a little. That's the time to go outdoors and find peace in nature. It helps you find the peace within.

TINA TRSTENJAK, judoka, Olympic and world champion

PERSEVERANCE

Life is full of ups and downs. In sports, the downs sometimes come with injuries. But just when others are starting to doubt whether you can get back on the racetrack, you prove to yourself that anything is possible if you have the perseverance! With outdoor exercise, discipline and routine anyone can get back on their feet and get off to another great start in life. Try it! In nature, it comes easy.

ŽAN KOŠIR, snowboarder, three-time Olympic medallist

LISTEN TO NATURE

HEROES

As a kid, the bow and arrow were my absolute favourite. I set my target on the meadow and enjoyed the almost silent flight of the arrow to the centre of the target. No matter how loud the birds chirped, I was listening for the arrow. Now I mainly train indoors and with earmuffs, but this makes me more conscious of the sounds of nature.

FRANČEK GORAZD TIRŠEK, para archer, four-time Paralympic medallist

MOTIVATION

LET WELL-BEING BE YOUR MOTIVATION

In addition to good fitness, results and victories, an important motivation for everyone, not just for athletes, has to be well being! Well being is easiest to achieve when we dedicate our time to something we love. Personally, I think I'm lucky: I do what makes me happy. I am sure that every amateur sportsperson can find such happiness for themselves.

JAKOV FAK, biathlete, world champion and Olympic medallist

GO DOWN BY THE RIVER

In Slovenia, you'll find water at every turn! A stream, a river, a lake, the sea – everything's at hand! When you wander around, you're drawn to the waters. Some of them are still, reflecting your image. But I have always had a liking for whitewater. You can't just jump into them, because they are often really powerful, but if you start to get to know them slowly, sooner or later you will master them. And get completely soaked through!

BENJAMIN SAVŠEK, canoeist, Olympic and world champion

365 DAYS OF EXCITEMENT

WHEN TO VISIT SLOVENIA?

When picking outdoor activities, a country with four distinct seasons is always the right choice. Your favourite form of exercise might sometimes be linked with high mountains, at other times with the seaside, or perhaps with river valleys, or vine-growing hills. You can find excellent centres for outdoor exercise throughout Slovenia. Because everything is so close, you can experience the country's diversity with your first visit and the many faces of nature during your subsequent visits to this green land. Time and again.

WINTER

While skiers, boarders and other winter

recreational enthusiasts enjoy activities on the snow at one end of Slovenia, it's possible to hike or cycle on sunny days at the other end of the country, or catch the bora wind on the Adriatic coast.

When the hills turn green, easily accessible mountain huts become busy with hikers and so do the take-off terrains for sky-flying acrobats. An increasing number of climbers are also taking on rock faces near the sea.

SUMMER

Once the sun warms up even the highest Slovenian peaks, there's no limit

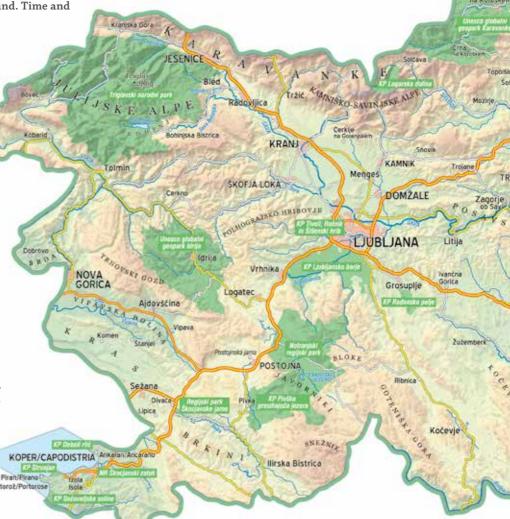

Slovenian peaks, there's no limit to spending time outdoors. In addition to their refreshing environment, the sea, lakes and rivers provide an array of sporting Portorot/Portores challenges, while green forests shelter many tranquil paths.

AUTUMN

When the weather of summer, spring and winter intertwines, those who enjoy sports in any weather and in any season can find their satisfaction. Only one season can be found underground, while the land and the air offer different kinds of excitement.

SO DIFFERENT.

Everything is close in the only European country combining the Alps, the Mediterranean, the Karst, and the Pannonian Plain. It is only about a two-hour drive from the capital and Central Slovenia to even the most remote corners of Slovenia. This means that you can experience four different worlds in a single day. But even a brief encounter with each of them fuels the desire to spend more time discovering its special features and to return to Slovenia.

ALPINE SLOVENIA

Find your favourite starting point for all kinds of outdoor sports among the highest peaks and the wildest white waters. Ski, hike, cycle, climb and seek your challenges. Visit the venues of great sporting events, too.

PRESERVING SLOVENIA

GREEN TOGETHER

Green, active and healthy Slovenia is known globally for its efforts dedicated to sustainable tourism development. Under the auspices of the internationally recognised Green Scheme of Slovenian Tourism, we are realising green policies and creating green adventures. Why? Because we wish to preserve the incredible diversity of this corner of the world, both for ourselves and the coming generations, and we also want to generously share it with visitors from all over the world.

As much as 60 per cent of Slovenia's territory is covered by forests and globally important primeval forest reserves can be found only 60 kilometres from the capital. More than one third of the country has been incorporated in the EU network of protected areas, Natura 2000. A fifth of the Slovenian coast is a protected area. With more than 22,000 animal and plant species, Slovenia is one of the most biodiversityrich countries in Europe. It is possible to be in the midst of extraordinary nature anywhere in Slovenia. Always show respect for nature when enjoying your selected forms of exercise.

CHOOSE GREEN

Choose from among more than 100 destinations, accommodation providers, natural parks, tourist agencies and tourist attractions that boast the Slovenia Green label and abide by the internationally established sustainable green strategy.

RESPECT NATURE

When in the habitats of rare animal and plant species, respect the rules of individual areas of protected nature. Let's move along marked paths. Let's not disturb animals with our motor vehicles! Take your litter away with you and dispose of it responsibly.

LET'S TRAVEL IN A SUSTAINABLE WAY

Choose an environmentally friendly means of transport to reach your selected centres for outdoor activities. Check out public transport connections.

PROTECT WATER - NO PLASTIC!

Set off for a journey outdoors properly prepared and equipped. Take water in a reusable bottle with you. Whenever possible, do not use plastic! Slovenian tourism follows the principle of Less plastic for more sustainability!

TASTE LOCAL

When wandering around Slovenia, it's easy to find delicious and healthy food to replenish your energy. Slovenia is the European Region of Gastronomy 2021. You can experience the superb cuisine created by distinguished chefs in many places, but everywhere you wander you'll find typical local dishes. Enjoy tasty meals at Slovenian inns, tourist farms or mountain huts.

STAY HEALTHY

Slovenia was one of the first countries in the world to obtain the Safe Travels label of the World Travel and Tourism Council. Slovenian tourist providers observe the GREEN & SAFE responsible travel standards, including all measures stipulated by the National Institute of Public Health. Please respect them, too. Observe health and hygiene recommendations and stay safe and healthy.

RECOMMENDATIONS FOR HIKERS

WALK TO THE RHYTHM OF NATURE

Hikers can discover Slovenia all year round. In winter, when trails are frequently hidden under a layer of snow, and when pushing through the fog in autumn, we venture on hikes along the plains and to more accessible spots in low mountains. When the snow melts and nature begins to bud in spring, low mountains with forests, pastures and vantage points become very attractive. At that time, the snow cover is still very deep in the mountains. The majority of mountain huts situated at higher elevations don't open their doors before June. Summer is the perfect time for conquering the highest peaks. When going into the mountains, observe the weather conditions. Days are hot, but nights are cold and afternoon storms are frequent. So, start your hike early in the morning and carry suitable equipment. You'll be safest if accompanied by experienced guides.

HIKING SAFELY

- Choose trails and goals that suit your physical and mental fitness.
- Check the weather conditions before going into the high mountains and pay close attention to them when planning your route.
- Plan your route with the help of printed guidebooks and maps. Use programmes uploaded to your smartphone (mobile applications) only as support.
- Always make sure that someone knows which route you've taken. Enter your name in the registers at mountain huts. Check whether mountain huts are open and book your accommodation.
- Take suitable equipment with you on a tour and make sure that you know how to use it.
- Observe the recommendations of the Alpine Association of Slovenia. Wear suitable mountaineering boots.
- Protect against sun, wind and cold. Bring a first-aid kit, aluminium foil or a black bag or a bivvy bag, a headlamp and spare batteries, high-energy food and sufficient quantities of fluids.
- Make sure your mobile phone is fully charged. In the event of an accident, call 112.
- Stay on marked and maintained trails. Be considerate of other hikers. In Slovenia, hikers say hello to each other in the mountains and give way to those descending on narrow footpaths.

USE MAPS AND APPLICATIONS

Explore more challenging routes with guides. But, when on your own, use mountain maps with scales of 1:50,000 and 1:25,000, guidebooks for individual mountain ranges in various languages, GPS tracking for mountain and themed trails, specialised websites with digitised topographic maps and mobile applications such as LocusMap with maps of the Alpine Association of Slovenia, the Slovenia Trails application with Monolit maps or the Outdooractive app. Aids for hikers are available in bookshops, tourist information centres (TICs) and specialist accommodation facilities.

FROM MARKING TO MARKING

When following your chosen trail, keep to the marked trails. Don't venture off the paths. On mountain trails, pay attention to the so-called Knafelc marking (Knafelčeva markacija), a white dot inside a red ring that is designed to orientate you and direct you towards your destination. They are emblazoned on large trees, rocks and other suitable spots, usually on the right-hand side of the direction in which you are walking. Certain trails are additionally marked with signposts indicating the level of difficulty and the anticipated walking time. European long-distance paths are marked with a yellow dot inside a red ring and themed trails with white dots inside yellow rings. Some themed trails in Slovenia are marked with their logos. Before starting your hike, learn about these terrain markings.

SELECT HIKING ACCOMMODATION

There are more than 50 hotels, guesthouses and apartments providing hiker-friendly accommodation. You'll recognise them by their logo depicting from one to five hikers, indicating the level at which they meet the hiking standards. The accommodation facilities of the highest category, which have five hikers in their logo, also employ a licensed guide and their own transport vehicle in addition to providing information, brochures, maps, options for uploading GPS tracking, premises for drying hiking equipment, a selection of hiking food packages, various hiking programmes, etc.

> When planning a hike, check the opening hours of accommodation facilities and book your stay: www.slovenia-outdoor.com

STOP AT MOUNTAIN HUTS

There are 178 mountain huts, shelters and bivouacs in Slovenia. Stop there to rest, get some lunch or spend the night. Mountain huts are also an information point for mountain rescue services. Before venturing into the mountains, check the opening hours of mountain huts. Those found in the valleys and low mountains receive supplies all year round, while those in the high mountains are usually open between June and September. If you're planning to spend the night, book before starting your hike.

THE WALK OF PEACE FROM THE ALPS TO THE ADRIATIC SEA

A long-distance trail in the area of the former Isonzo Front, one of the most famous battlefields in World War I, links natural attractions to the historical heritage of Slovenia and Italy. Learn the story of a soldier from the Isonzo Front, a unique experience bearing the Slovenia Unique Experiences label, at the Kolovrat Open-Air Museum and the Kobarid Museum. Along the way, you can visit several World War I museums, 21 open-air museums, numerous military cemeteries and ossuaries, and enjoy the peace and the breath-taking views from the Alps to the Adriatic. Owing to its mission and homage to peace, the Walk of Peace, with its World War I heritage on the territory of Slovenia, has also been inscribed on the UNESCO Tentative List of World Heritage Sites.

VIA DINARICA

Amidst the Karst phenomena of the Dinaric Alps

One of the most interesting hiking trails in Europe starts in Slovenia and ends far to the south, passing through the Balkan countries in stages. The Slovenian section of the trail leads among exceptional Karst sites: the underground world of Križna and Planina caves, the intermittent Lake Cerknica and other extraordinary water phenomena, the ancient beech forests which are part of the UNESCO World Heritage, and a unique cultural heritage. The highest peak on the trail is Mt Snežnik (1796 m).

Duration: 6 days

Length: 160 km (in Slovenia)

Difficulty: easy to medium difficulty

ZASAVJE LONG-DISTANCE TRAIL

From the Kozjansko Regional Park to the hills above the Sava River

The UNESCO Biosphere Reserve of the Kozjansko Regional Park, known for high-trunk meadow orchards, the scenic Posavje Hills above the Sava River and the Geometric Centre of Slovenia (GEOSS) are all on the route of the Zasavje Long-Distance Trail, which is also suitable for hiking in winter. There are several mountain huts and inns on the trail, too. Among the attractive destinations is the trail's highest peak, 1,220-metre-high Kum, which commands views reaching to the Julian Alps and Mt Triglav.

Duration: 7 days

Length: 200 km (in Slovenia)

PROTECTED CLIMBING ROUTES – FERRATAS

A popular adrenaline experience among experienced hikers who seek special thrills are ferratas; maintained and protected climbing routes. Classic ferratas are equipped with pitons and steel wires to help climbers reach their destinations more safely, while modern sports ferratas are designed to provide excitement when climbing in nature.

Attention! Climb safely. Use protective equipment: a helmet, a climbing harness, a self-protection set, and climbing footwear with a good grip. Assess your abilities regarding the level of difficulty graded from A to F. A course is mandatory for higher difficulty levels, on which you'll learn suitable climbing techniques and correct use of the equipment. If you're climbing a ferrata for the first time, take a guide with you.

MOUNTAIN AND SPORTS CLIMBING

MOUNTAIN CHALLENGES

Slovenian mountaineers have been conquering primary routes on the highest mountains of the world for decades. Among the most popular ones in Slovenia is the 1,300 metres high and more than 3,500 metres wide Triglav North Face, where more than 140 routes have been marked which can be discovered in the summer if you are suitably skilled and equipped and accompanied by experienced guides. Challenging rock faces can also be found in other mountains of Alpine Slovenia.

POPULAR NATURAL CLIMBING AREAS

Sports climbers wanting to climb even if they're not conquering high mountain peaks can find in Slovenia natural climbing areas with a choice of routes of various difficulty levels. Most of them can be found in Alpine Slovenia, i.e. in the Julian Alps, and in the Jezersko region and the Logar Valley. Osp with its semi-circular overhanging rock face and routes with difficulty levels ranging between 4a and 9b attracts climbers all year round to Mediterranean & Karst Slovenia, including the nearby Mišja peč that boasts the most difficult climbing routes. A popular climbing area in Thermal Pannonian Slovenia is Kotečnik in the vicinity of the hop-growing town of Žalec, where more than 300 routes for beginners and expert climbers can be found between spring and autumn.

CLIMBING CENTRES

Slovenian climbers are some of the best in the world. They have good training conditions in nature and climbing centres. The largest and most modern sports and climbing centre in Ljubljana has almost 1,300 m2 of climbing surfaces with high and low or bouldering walls and routes of various difficulty levels. The climbing centre in Celje has a wall for speed climbing and the centre in Kranj a wall for lead climbing. The centres for bouldering are also in Verd near Vrhnika, Koper and Nova Gorica. Climbing walls can also be found in sports centres and schools. Also offering interesting challenges are artificial outdoor climbing walls, which can be found, for example, in the Cukarca Adventure Park near Šentvid pri Stični and in Gozd Martuljek.

LONG-DISTANCE MOUNTAIN CYCLING TRAILS

SLOVENIAN MOUNTAIN BIKE ROUTE

The diversity of Slovenian regions can be explored on this 1,800-kilometre long route with 50,000 metres of elevation difference and 109 control points at 41 stages for which GPS tracking is available. This circular route that connects all the major Slovenian mountain ranges by means of skid trails and paths, field trails and side roads includes 50 mountain huts and important aspects of mountaineering, ethnographic and technical history.

POHORJE CYCLING TRANSVERSAL

A diverse 75-kilometre route linking the sports centre of the Maribor Pohorje Hills with those of Areh, Rogla, the Ribnica Pohorje Hills and Kope. The starting point or the end of the route in the Maribor section is at the upper station of the Pohorje funicular and at the Kremžar Vrh Hill above Slovenj Gradec in the Koroška section. The entire Pohorje Hills are intertwined with numerous cycling trails, many of which are connected with the attractive transversal.

TRANS KARAVANKE MTB TRAIL

The Karavanke Alps, the longest Slovenian mountain range, stretching along the Slovenian-Austrian border, is 132 kilometres long. It stuns mountain bikers with its trail through an awe-inspiring landscape offering majestic views. The trail from the Jezersko Valley to the Triple Border (Tromeja) in the far northwestern part of Slovenia is suitable for physically fit cyclists. It is divided into five daily stages between 25 and 35 kilometres in length. The largest elevation difference in one day is 1,650 m.

BIKE SLOVENIA GREEN

The Bike Slovenia Green cycling tours only connect destinations that prove their commitment to a green future by attaining the Slovenia Green sustainability certificate. The Gourmet Tour includes places for culinary pampering, the tour from the Alps to the Adriatic Sea through the Soča Valley and through Goriška Brda also leads to the seaside cycling path on the former Parenzana railway line, while the third tour invites you among the special features of Ljubljana and central Slovenia, Kočevje and Bela Krajina. You can go on tours with guides or with the help of GPS tracking.

MORE INTERESTING DESTINATIONS FOR MOUNTAIN BIKERS

Those who travel on a mountain or a trekking bike find the right trails for themselves either on famed long-distance trails or their selected stages as well as in numerous local cycling networks. Explore green nature in the vicinity of historical towns and regional or landscape parks. Ascend to see views that may surprise you even on lower hills and not just atop Alpine peaks.

THE SOČA RIVER VALLEY

Enjoy the views from the peaks of the Julian Alps between Bovec, Tolmin and Kobarid, and explore iconic plateaus and remote villages. This trail along the ridge of Kobarid's Mt Stol (ascent to 1,246 metres) is considered to be one of the most scenic experiences. The trail to Mt Matajur (1642 m) is challenging, while the cycling trails by the easternmost Slovenian village, Robidišče, are very inspiring.

KRANJSKA GORA

In addition to more than 200 kilometres of cycling paths suitable for all cyclists, mountain trails can also be found in the popular mountain sports centre. After strenuous climbs to mountain ridges, enjoyable descents are guaranteed.

ŠKOFJA LOKA WITH THE POLJANE AND SELCA VALLEYS

Close to the town renowned for its unique Passion Play, numerous cycling trails along the hills of three valleys have been arranged. The almost 400-kilometre Loka Cycle Route, divided into 13 stages, offers picturesque vistas. On one of the stages, you can climb to the top of Mt Blegoš (1562 m).

TRŽIČ

The town once known for its shoe-making industry features as many as 30 marked trails with destinations such as Mt Košuta, Slovenia's longest mountain, Mt Storžič, Mt Kriška gora or Mt Dobrča. The Ljubelj road pass with its iconic gorges and river valleys can pose quite a challenge for cyclists.

THE VIPAVA VALLEY

A circular cycling tour through the Vipava Valley, which begins and ends in Ajdovščina and, after a visit to Vipava and an 800-metre ascent to Col, opens up views from the edge of the Trnovski Gozd plateau. A track that climbs to the popular Nanos plateau (1,240 m) also branches off from the path.

TO THE KARST AND THE BRKINI

You can explore UNESCO's Karst Biosphere Reserve and venture to the iconic Brkini Hills via the hills and valleys along the 24-kilometre Brkinka Trail. Special features of the Green Karst can be seen on the Land of the Bear Cycling Trail that will take you to Snežnik Castle and Karst caves.

FOLLOWING THE ATTRACTIONS OF THE NOTRANJSKA REGION

Cycle to Mt Velika Slivnica (1114 m) to find the most magnificent views of the intermittent Lake Cerknica. Discover other surprises of the Notranjska Regional Park in the Rakov Škocjan Valley and on the Menišija Cycling Trail.

THE KOČEVSKO REGION

You can cycle here among the water springs with information boards and maintained picnic areas along the way. The shorter Springs of Kočevje Route, which also includes the Rožni Studenec Forest Educational Trail, is 14.5 kilometres long and suitable for everyone. In addition to springs and other sights, the longer and somewhat more difficult route takes you on its 31 kilometres to the MTB Trail Centre Kočevje.

THE KAMNIK-SAVINJA ALPS

Put your bike on a cable car and descend to the famous Velika planina Plateau from where you ride into the valley along a 29-kilometre trail. The attractive trail along the Solčava Panoramic Road can be found near the Logar Valley, where you can admire views of one of the most scenic glacial valleys in Europe. On the Golte Plateau, you can cycle past one of the highest situated mountain gardens in Europe, the Alpine Garden, high mountain Karst gullies and shepherds' huts to nearby Smrekovec, the only (extinct) volcano in Slovenia.

IN THE CAPITAL

Ljubljana plans to become the first capital in Europe with attractive trails for mountain bikers in an urban environment. Explore the Golovec Trails with natural single trails, plus challenging and fun trails for climbing.

BIKE PARKS

1 JAMNICA SINGLE TRAIL PARK, THE KOROŠKA REGION

Cyclists on bikes named "all-mountain" and "enduro" can enjoy 21 kilometres of single trails in the Koroška park. Less difficult and technically challenging trails are linked together with a special trail to facilitate the return to the top. The mountainous surrounding area attracts MTB bikers as they can descend the neighbouring Mt Peca along a trail with 1,000 metres of elevation difference, considered to be the longest flow trail in Europe.

2 POHORJE BIKE PARK, MARIBOR®

For their dose of adrenaline, beginners can choose the 5.5-kilometre blue flow and family line with small jumps. The advanced and more skilled bikers challenge themselves on the 2.9-kilometre super-fast red line with huge jumps, while pro bikers ride the legendary 2.1-kilometre black line of the World Cup with its technical jumps.

KRANJSKA GORA BIKE PARK ®

On the iconic ski slope in the heart of the Julian Alps, accessible via a four-seater chairlift, a bike park for all types of bikers (free ride, northshore, enduro, tabletop, downhill) of various physical fitness levels has been set up. Families and beginners, experienced and professional mountain bikers can also venture on trips and regular tours of the surrounding hills.

4 KRVAVEC BIKE PARK ®

Choose from 30 kilometres of trails on six marked mountain biking trails with the largest elevation drop among the Slovenian bike parks. The park enables the perfection of skills on wooden and rock elements which can be practised on the trail for beginners and on the panoramic trail.

5 VOGEL BIKE PARK

The natural ski slope in Triglav National Park attracts adrenaline bikers in summer. The access to the start altitude at 1,682 metres is enabled by a cable car and then a four-seater chairlift, both offering magnificent views. The 1.4-kilometre trail with an elevation difference of 200 metres and several obstacles of various difficulty levels is suitable for beginners and experienced bikers.

6 ROBIDIŠČE TRAIL CENTRE

Five hand-made trails, each some 2 kilometres long, await you in the westernmost village in Slovenia. From the top, where there is also a skills park, they lead over the pools of the Nadiža River. The easiest routes are also suitable for families and children, while the more difficult ones require advanced knowledge.

7 ROGLA BIKE PARK

In the midst of the Pohorje forests, bikers can enjoy the thrills provided by trails of various difficulty levels and elements such as tabletops, berms, drops, step ups, etc. The most difficult trails for super challenging descents with jumps and fast bends are particularly attractive. A park that attracts extra demanding bikers, it is also suitable for beginners who venture on the trails with instructors.

8 MTB TRAIL CENTRE KOČEVJE

Dolga vas pri Kočevju is the place when several trails of various difficulty levels can be found, from the least demanding with no technical elements to the 3-kilometre climb with an elevation difference of 200 metres. Technical obstacles enabling longer jumps over holes, tests at a rock garden and on raised curves – berms can be found at the bottom of the park.

9 POSEKA BIKE PARK

A trail for speed enthusiasts and a trail with a diverse course on natural ground with tilted turns can be found in the sports centre in Ravne na Koroškem.

10 KOPE BIKE PARK

The trail called Flow Line provides fun, sports and adrenaline adventures for individuals, groups and families, while the Pro Line is intended for the most skilled bikers.

11 LJUBLJANA BIKE PARK

A mountain bike skills park in an old quarry, a flow line and a dual slalom track, a pump track, options for jumps, and newly built facilities are linked by an XC trail. Educational workshops and courses are organised in the mountain bike skills park, which is also suitable for children and beginners.

12 CUKARCA BIKE PARK

The cycling part of the largest adventure park in Dolenjska offers two routes for beginners and experienced cyclists and an attractive "dirt park" with a dirt pump track and two jump lines. The park near Šentvid pri Stični also offers a large climbing wall and an adrenaline park.

CHALLENGING ROAD CYCLING CLIMBS FOR TOUGH CYCLISTS

Those who enjoy challenging slopes are familiar with 20-kilometre plus long climbs with elevation differences that demand respect. Although testing one's own endurance is a good reason for choosing such trails, the true reward comes with the incredible views found at road passes and the changeability of the landscape along the way.

REACHING KRVAVEC IS A TRUE ACCOMPLISHMENT

Many cyclists find the climb to Krvavec above the Ljubljana Basin the toughest climb in Slovenia. The trail to the Planina Jezerca Plateau in the Kamnik-Savinja Alps includes almost 12 kilometres of persistent climbing with an average of a more than 8-per cent slope, which even reaches 15-per cent in two sections. The total climb stretches through 938 metres of elevation difference.

TO THE MANGARTSKO SEDLO PASS FOR MAJESTIC VIEWS

On an attractive road tour in the Julian Alps, a more than 21-kilometre slope has to be conquered on the way to the finish line at 2,040 metres. The route, which also leads through three tunnels, has on average a 7-per cent slope. After ascending 1,487 metres, you can see Mt Mangart (2678 m) and the Mangart or Laghi di Fusine Lakes.

TACKLING HAIRPIN BENDS TO THE VRŠIČ PASS

A climb up to the highest road pass in Slovenia is demanding, but also a very popular cycling destination. If starting in Kranjska Gora, you'll have to tackle a more than 10-kilometre climb with an average 7.25-per cent slope and 749 metres of elevation difference. The statistics are similar if starting on the other side of the pass in the Soča River Valley. A race in which competitors ride the legendary small city bike, Pony, to the Vršič Pass also presents a true challenge.

CONQUER NEARBY SLOPES

Wherever you are in Slovenia, a starting point for an interesting road climb is never far away. Cross the Kamnik-Savinja Alps across the Pavličevo Sedlo Pass and visit Solčava and the Logar Valley or the Jezersko Valley in the Gorenjska region. Push the pedals and conquer Golte or the Mozirje Hills. Venture on the Predel Pass on the border between Slovenia and Italy. Climb the forested Pokljuka Plateau to where trails lead from Bled and Bohinj. From the latter, you should also venture to Soriška planina road pass. Conquer the Pohorje Hills. You can start in Maribor and cycle to the Areh ski centre. In the Pohorje Hills, you'll also discover the steepness of the road from the Zreče health resort to the Rogla ski resort. Ascend to Mt Kum in Central Slovenia. Tackle the road to Strmo Reber in the Kočevsko region, a challenging route with 19 180-degree hairpin turns and an average 8.8-per cent slope.

LONG-DISTANCE ROAD CYCLING TRAILS

Trails along rivers and the Adriatic coast, between Alpine peaks and diverse Slovenian regions are an excellent choice for cyclists who enjoy the feeling of complete freedom while travelling. Individual stages of these trails provide perfect opportunities for short trips for cyclists of different fitness levels.

TRAIL ALONG THE MURA RIVER

The riverside cycling trail that starts at the Mura's spring in Austria reaches Slovenia and blossoms into the fabulous experiences offered by the picturesque Prekmurje and Prlekija regions. Thermal Pannonian Slovenia provides cyclists with hospitality, excellent local cuisine and wines and a break next to thermal springs. You will cross the river several times along the way and discover the natural and cultural attractions of the area.

MORE OPPORTUNITIES FOR ROAD AND TREKKING CYCLING

Irrespective of your past cycling experience, you can safely explore trails in Slovenia which will take you to local roads and in special directions away from the main traffic routes. It's easy to find the perfect trail for a family trip, exploration of towns and their green surrounding areas.

AROUND COSMOPOLITAN ALPINE CENTRES

You can cycle around the iconic lake with its island in Bled. The Radovna River Valley between Bled and Kranjska Gora boasts unforgettable cycling trips for the entire family. You can start or end your journey along the first cycling trail in Triglav National Park at the Slovenian Alpine Museum in Mojstrana and explore along the way the sights of the Upper Sava Valley. From Bled, you can cycle to Radovljica, the centre of the Slovenian beekeeping tradition and chocolate-making, which is also a popular starting point for climbing mountains. In Kranj, considered to be the capital of the Slovenian Alps, venture on cycling routes under Mt Storžič. Four diverse trails will take you to vantage points of the Gorenjska countryside.

CYCLING AMONG

VINEYARDS AND ORCHARDS

Cycling trails in the Brda Hills are named after fruit varieties growing in local orchards. Circular trips start in Dobrovo. An easy cycling trail suitable for the entire family can also be found in the Upper Vipava Valley. In addition to vineyards and orchards, it's possible to discover attractions between the towns of Ajdovščina and Vipava where the only delta-shaped river spring in Europe can be found in the middle of the town.

POSAVJE CYCLING EXPERIENCES

Numerous cycling trails criss-cross near castles along the Sava River, which you can cycle on multi-day tours or short trips. Choose a route that will enable you to stop at castle cellars and restaurants so you can learn about the Posavje wine culture and cuisine. Themed trails near Terme Čatež Spa are also pleasant for easygoing cycling trips.

EMERALD CYCLING TRAILS

The valley of the emerald green Soča River offers more than 2,500 kilometres of trails for all types of cyclists. The road trail between Tolmin and Kobarid, which also runs on the Soča's left bank away from the main road in the valley, is especially interesting for families. It leads through villages, past the Napoleon Bridge and the Soča gorges. The route from Kobarid to the Nadiža River and its swimming area is always a pleasant choice.

ROUTES AMIDST THE PICTURESQUE COUNTRYSIDE WITH HEALTH RESORTS

The Kozjansko and Obsotelje regions feature themed cycling trails that connect Slovenia with neighbouring Croatia. Individual trails are linked with Terme Olimia Spa in Podčetrtek and the famous Rogaška Slatina natural spa. From Šentjur, you can venture to Lake Slivnica, among other nearby destinations.

THE UPPER SAVA CYCLING TRAIL

The Jure Robič Cycling Trail, named after the renowned extreme cyclist, is considered one of the most scenic cycling trails in the Gorenjska region. The route of the former railway line connects Mojstrana, Kranjska Gora and Rateče, and then continues to Laghi di Fusine Lakes in neighbouring Italy. This almost 50-kilometre trail incorporates sights such as the Slovenian Alpine Museum, Lake Jasna in Kranjska Gora and the Planica Olympic Sports Centre.

ŠTREKNA CYCLING TRAIL

One of the most well-maintained cycling trails will take you to the Koroška region. Along the route of an abandoned railway line with two tunnels are 24 kilometres of trails. With its slight incline, the trail is popular among families and less experienced cyclists.

AROUND THE KARST WORLD

The attractions of the Karst landscape and architecture can be admired on numerous trails from the town of Miren to the Brkini Hills. When cycling along the 85-kilometre trail called the Karst Cultural Ring, you will travel through Sežana, Lipica, Divača, Štanjel and Tomaj. You'll tackle a 33-kilometre Bloke cycling loop on the Karst plateau of Bloke. Many road trails also take you around Lake Cerknica.

AMONG THE HOP PLANTATIONS OF THE SAVINJA VALLEY

From Žalec, venture among the famous hop plantations near the first beer fountain in the world to numerous sights of interest in the Savinja Valley on as many as 19 marked cycling trails of various difficulty levels.

BOHINJ CYCLING TRAIL

Among the more than 420 kilometres of cycling trails that are an invitation to the area of Lake Bohinj under Triglav National Park, recreational cyclists most favour the 11-kilometre multi-purpose asphalt road that runs between the Lower and Upper Bohinj Valley. The Alpine Dairy Farming Museum and other attractions in the Bohinj area can be explored along the well-marked route.

ON A BIKE TO HISTORY

Discover Slovenian towns and their surroundings on a bike. Regular and e-bikes for exploring different stories of towns and their green hinterland can be hired in Ljubljana, Maribor, Murska Sobota, Ptuj, Celje, Novo mesto, Škofja Loka, Slovenj Gradec, Radovljica, Kamnik, Kranj, Laško, Kostanjevica na Krki and Koper.

DISCOVERING LJUBLJANA IN A UNIQUE WAY

Ljubljana, the capital of Slovenia, is high on the list of the most bikefriendly cities in the world. It has more than 230 kilometres of arranged cycling trails. The options for bike rental are supplemented by guided themed cycling tours. One of these is the Moustache Tour, a one-ofa-kind 3.5-hour cycling experience taking you along the trails of the influential moustachioed men of Slovenian culture. It also boasts the Slovenia Unique Experiences label.

IN LOVE WITH WINTER

SPORTS CENTRES WITH WHITE SLOPES

Skiers of all types, cross-country skiers, snowboarders, sledders and lovers of all other winter sports can find the perfect spot for their outdoor activities in sports centres where snow is assured even when nature is less generous with it. Slovenia's special advantages are manageable distances and easy access to all major winter centres. Visit them also in spring, summer and autumn when they provide numerous possibilities for active green experiences. Smaller centres all over Slovenia also cater for beginners and families.

ALPINE SKIING

In addition to maintained slopes for Alpine skiing and suitable ski lifts and other devices, the major Slovenian mountain centres provide equipment hire, and have ski schools, catering and accommodation facilities. On rocky and little overgrown high mountain slopes such as Kanin and Vogel, the ski season can last until May. Other ski resorts, such as Kranjska Gora in the Julian Alps, Krvavec and Golte in the Kamnik-Savinja Alps, Rogla, the Maribor Pohorje Hills and Kope in the Pohorje Hills feature welcoming plateaus among forests. Ski resorts of the pre-Alpine hills such as Cerkno and Stari vrh are particularly attractive for families. Numerous smaller ski resorts are an excellent choice for beginners.

CROSS-COUNTRY SKIING

Cross-country skiing enthusiasts will find their perfect place in Planica Nordic Centre, where 800 metres of cross-country skiing track in an underground snow tunnel is also available in summer. More than 40 kilometres of tracks are arranged on natural snow in the nearby Kranjska Gora. The Pokljuka Plateau in Triglav National Park has a very good reputation among cross-country skiers. From more than 25 kilometres of tracks, there are also sections for competitive cross-country skiers. More than 65 kilometres of various tracks are arranged in the nearby Bohinj Valley when there's snow. Top athletes and recreational sportspeople frequently visit the cross-country ski centre in Rogla, where there are 24 kilometres of tracks with various difficulty levels and a start-finish arena suitable for teaching beginners and practising. When there's snow, cross-country skiing tracks can also be found in the vicinity of certain towns and attractive tourist destinations such as the Logar Valley, Jezersko and the Bloke Plateau, which is known as the cradle of the Slovenian skiing tradition.

SKI TOURING

Ski touring enables genuine contact with wild winter nature on off-piste unmarked terrains. There are plenty of suitable terrains in Slovenia, but don't embark on this demanding sport alone! Even the most experienced should go on a ski tour in pairs, and with a mountain guide to areas they do not know. Depending on your preparedness and the weather, the guide will choose a suitable goal: descent from the top in the vicinity of mountain centres, ascent to the top and descent from it, which can be achieved in one day (for example, to the popular Komna) or a special experience such as the Juliana Ski Tour - a four-day trip across the Julian Alps with four different ski tours.

SNOWSHOEING AND SLEDGING

Venture on a snowshoe hike away from the maintained trails, along paths that you can't even see under their thick layer of snow. Many mountain centres organise guided day and – particularly interesting – night hikes into pristine nature equipped with snowshoes and poles. In addition to sledging tracks, which can usually be found next to ski slopes, you can experience a true sledging adventure with a day or night descent of the longest sledging track in Slovenia from the Vogar mountain pasture in Bohinj (6 km), on the snowy road from Ljubelj (2.5 km) or Mt Mangart (3 km), on the first sledging track equipped with lights in Gozd Martuljek and on sledging slopes in Jezersko, the Selce Valley, the Velika planina Plateau and elsewhere.

ADRENALINE AND FUN CHALLENGES

In wintertime, seekers of exciting and new adventures in Slovenian sports centres get their thrills from snow rafting, airboarding, skijoring, skibiking, snow wakeboarding and many other thrilling sports.

SNOWBOARDING AND SNOW PARKS

Slovenian ski slopes are snowboarding friendly but snowboarding off-piste is prohibited. To challenge themselves, do tricks and practice, snowboarders choose ski centres that also have snow parks in addition to ski tracks, such as Rogla Fun Park, Vogel Snow Park, Krvavec Snow Park, Cerkno Snow Park, Kranjska Gora Snow Park, etc.

WINTER HIKING

Hiking and themed trails in the lowlands and the surrounding areas of towns are also accessible in winter. But observe all safety warnings when venturing into higher reas in low and high mountains because snow is a possibility om October to early summer. Don't forget that most huts in the high mountains are closed in winter. Check the weather onditions and avalanche warnings. Learn how to walk with crampons and the correct use of an ice axe. Bring with you avalanche safety and rescue equipment. Rather than going by yourself, set out on a hike with an experienced guide as it will be easier to climb 2,000-metre peaks such as Mt Viševnik (2050 m) in the Julian Alps, Mt Stol (2236 m) in the Karavanke Alps or Mt Raduha (2062 m) in the Kamnik-Savinja Alps in winter. You can also experience a true winter fairy-tale in low mountains, including the Velika planina Plateau, the Škofja Loka Hills, the Polhov Gradec Hills, the Zasavje or the Pohorje Hills.

ICE CLIMBING

Slovenia is a country with an abundance of water. Numerous waterfalls that freeze in winter are a magnet for thrill seekers. Ice climbing should be done with full equipment and an instructor to begin with. In the Mlačca Gorge near Mojstrana, belay devices are provided on the frozen slope, making this site an excellent place for beginners. More experienced climbers can attempt the demanding Lucifer ice vertical in the nearby Gozd Martuljek, while the frozen waterfalls under Mt Prisank and in the Tamar Valley also present their challenges in the vicinity. The waterfalls of Log pod Mangartom are popular in the Soča River Valley, including those in the Trenta Valley, and when winter is particularly cold, climbers like to visit the Boka Waterfall, which has the largest water volume of all the falls in Slovenia. The opportunity to test your climbing skills on ice crystals also presents itself in the hidden gullies of the Logar Valley, which boasts more than 20 waterfalls. In addition to natural climbing sites, artificial walls can be found in Slovenia, too. A wall for rock climbing using ice climbing equipment (ice axe and crampons) for the so-called dry-tooling can be found in Domžale, which also hosts competitions of the European Ice Climbing Cup.

INTERNATIONAL DIMENSIONS OF SLOVENIAN GOLF

Golf has been played in Slovenia since 1937 and the best Slovenian courses have hosted numerous tournaments and European championships since then. In 2015, Slovenia was the Undiscovered Golf Destination of the Year according to IAGTO (International Association of Golf Tour Operators), and it recently hosted the International Golf Travel Market. Slovenia's special advantage is easy access to mutually cooperative golf courses in the Alpe-Adria region. In addition to Slovenian courses, the annual golf card, i.e. the Alpe-Adria Golf Card, enables visits to the courses in neighbouring Austria and Italy.

SLOVENIA FROM THE SADDLE

The diversity of green Slovenia can be explored by horseback riding on the tourist farms and ranches found in all Slovenian regions, at equestrian clubs offering riding schools in arenas or out in the field, when attending competitions and other equestrian events, in places with a unique equestrian heritage and on longer riding tours. Horsedrawn carriage rides are also available in many places, while children will be thrilled to meet the ponies.

GUIDED HORSEBACK RIDING TOURS

Guided horseback riding tours are possible in many places in Slovenia. You can also go riding in landscape and regional parks, and Triglav National Park. Maintained horse-riding trails can be found in Bohinj, the Pokljuka Plateau, Idrija, the Pohorje Hills, the Kočevsko, Bela krajina and Posavje regions, and elsewhere. Nowadays, popular trails are even presented in digital form. For example, check out the digitalised trails of the Obsotelje and Kozjansko regions

WORLD-RENOWNED CRADLE

OF THE LIPIZZAN HORSE

When in Slovenia, horse lovers stampede to Lipica, which is the original stud farm for these white horses, established in 1580. These thoroughbred horses can be seen on meadows, in stables, at official training sessions and presentations of the classical riding school. You can choose from short and weekly dressage programmes, venture on trail riding or take a carriage ride.

Križna Cave

UNFORGETTABLE TOURS OF POPULAR CAVES

A special cave train will take you to the magnificent sculptures, stalactites, stalagmites, and halls of Postojna Cave, the most popular Karst cave in Europe. In the vivarium, you can admire the "human fish" (proteus) and interactively experience Karst phenomena at the Expo Cave Karst exhibition.

- One of the largest known underground river canyons in the world can be found in Škocjan Caves, inscribed on the UNESCO World Heritage list.
- You'll be taken by boat across emerald green lakes to the site where the remains of a cave bear were found in Križna Cave.
- Planina Cave is the largest water cave in Slovenia. This cave boasts one of the largest confluences of underground rivers in Europe.
- Different coloured underground halls can be admired in Vilenica Cave, the first tourist cave in Europe.
- With tunnels on two levels, Dimnice Cave offers fascinating lessons in natural science.
- In Divača Cave, you can find a speleothem cave called Zakladnica (treasure trove), which has white and red curtains and large crystals.
- You can see the highest underground waterfall in Slovenia in Pekel Cave in the Savinja Valley.
- In Snežna Cave, the highest situated tourist cave in Slovenia, it's possible to walk around an ice hall that has an ice pillar even in summer.
- Kostanjevica Cave near Kostanjevica na Krki reveals the fauna of the underground world as well as various speleothem forms.
- Mayor's Cave (also known as Tabor Cave) near Grosuplje has, among other features, an ice hall in which ice crystal stalagmites form in winter.

DIFFERENT EXPERIENCES AT POSTOJNA CAVE PARK

In addition to a train ride in the iconic Postojna Cave, it's also possible to experience the excitement of the first cave explorers in Postojna Cave Park, an experience well worthy of the Slovenia Unique Experience label. Equipped with a rope, a helmet and a helmet lamp, you will venture on a hike with an experienced guide through three caves (Postojna, Black and Pivka caves) in the footsteps of Luka Čeč or explore other non-tourist tunnels. TO THE UNDERGROUND ON A BIKE OR BY KAYAK

In addition to numerous Karst caves, Slovenia also harbours the remains of former mines. In the subterranean world of Mt Peca in the Koroška region, a part of the Karavanke UNESCO Global Geopark, you can treat yourself to a special five-star Slovenia Unique Experience label adventure some 700 metres below the surface. Paddle through the flooded tunnels of the former lead and zinc mine in a kayak, or cycle along the 5-kilometre trail winding through the mine tunnels.

WHEN I GET CLOSER TO THE SKY, EVERYTHING BECOMES CLEARER.

Seeing Slovenia from a bird's eye view allows you to experience its beauty in a new way. Various views of mountain peaks, valleys and plains reveal the diversity of this green country.

The knowledge needed for independent flying, the power and skills required to move among the treetops, the pulse that accelerates when descending to the depths far below, the trust in the pilot taking you closer to the sun – all of these not only enrich our memories, but also our appetite for life. ### SPORT AVIATION

There are several sport airports for motor gliders and sailplanes. Many organise panoramic flights and air trips that provide a spectacular vantage point for the beautiful sights of the green country. Mt Triglav, the highest Slovenian mountain, the famous Alpine lakes, the Adriatic Sea, Ljubljana and other towns can be seen from a bird's eye view. It's also possible to lease or hire a plane at certain airports. Several flying schools and clubs train pilots of motor, ultralight and paragliding aircraft and paragliders, too.

PARAGLIDING AND HANG GLIDING

In Slovenia, you'll find more than 40 registered take-off sites for paragliders and hang gliders. Among the most attractive are those in the Soča River Valley, in the area of Bohinj, and in the Goriško and Vipavsko regions where the flying season lasts 300 days.

The Slovenian ski slopes, such as Krvavec, Vogel, Cerkno, the Soriška Planina Plateau, Golte and the Pohorje Hills are also popular take-off sites. A suitable licence is needed for independent paragliding. Slovenian paragliders and hang gliders who excel at international competitions will make sure that your flying experience in tandem is unforgettable. Choose a licensed provider with experienced instructors.

HOT AIR BALLOONING

Sunrises and sunsets look different if seen from a balloon crossing the Ljubljana Marshes, Lake Bled, the Pannonian Plan and other scenic sights that attract balloonists from all over the world. Balloon clubs with suitable certificates for conducting hot air balloon transport will lift you into the sky and safely bring you back down to earth at several locations in the country.

JUMPING

Lesce-Bled Airport was the site of the first world parachuting championship in 1951. Trained and licensed parachutists can find great opportunities at sports airports where experienced instructors oversee adrenaline-pumping but safe jumps with a tandem parachute from an aircraft or a helicopter at an altitude of 3-, 4- or 6,000 metres. And they also photograph your adventure in the sky.

THRILLS ON THE ZIPLINE

Zip line Planica

Test your courage in Slovenian parks by sliding down a zipline for an unforgettable adventure:

- Olimpline, the longest continuous adrenaline zipline in Slovenia, can be found in Črna na Koroškem where you will descend down a 1,260-metre long zipline. The elevation difference between the starting and finishing points is 200 metres and the speed of the descent reaches up to 120 km/h.
- The steepest zipline descent in the world is in Planica, the venue of breathtaking ski jumps on the famous ski jumping hill. Speeds of up to 85 km/h can be reached on the 566-metre descent.
- Europe's largest zipline park is situated in the Soča River Valley. The Učja Canyon with ten ziplines, 4 kilometres of steel cables stretching 200 metres above the ground and providing speeds of up to 60 km/h will leave you totally buzzed.

- You can also fly above the Soča River on a zipline in Kanin. It's possible to descend above the Krnica Valley in winter, too.
- In the vicinity of Bled, seven ziplines with a total length of 4 kilometres invite you to fly over the Sava Dolinka River. On the descent down the Dolinka zipline, you cross the valley that intertwines forests and wetlands and is part of the Natura 2000 network of protected areas seven times.
- Five ziplines also stretch above luscious forests in Bohinj where you can top off the experience with a 10-metre freefall.
- At Sunny Paradise Estate in Maribor, a zipline descent will connect you with the life of bees. A descent, 35 metres above the ground and known as the Bee Flight, runs in two directions and meetings in mid-air further add to the excitement.
- In addition to the 200-metre descent at Golte in the Kamnik-Savinja Alps, you can also test your skills on the artificial climbing wall where a guide will show you the ropes.

JUMP INTO THE DEPTHS

Solkan

For many years now, bungee jumping has been one of the most popular adrenaline challenges. You can try it in the Soča River Valley, which offers a 55-metre jump amidst extraordinary surroundings. Towards the Soča River, you will jump from a bridge in Solkan near Nova Gorica.

FLOATING ON AIR CURRENTS

A powerful air current will make you float in Planica Nordic Centre and Aerodium in Logatec. Wind tunnels that are used for parachuting practice are a fun adrenaline adventure even for those with no flying experience. BUNGEE

FUN IN ADVENTURE PARKS

- There are adventure parks in Bovec, Kobarid, Log pod Mangartom and the Srnica Gorge in the Soča River Valley, which is considered to be THE adrenaline valley. Bovec Adventure Park features challenges for children, adults and the particularly daring. To get their pulse pounding, visitors can enjoy activities in Kamp Koren Adventure Park in Kobarid, the Centre of Adventures under Mangart and the Park of Active Adventures in the Srnica Gorge. The Soča Fun Park in Solkan near Nova Gorica is also enticing; in addition to four polygons and the crossing of the Soča River by raft, a zipline across the Soča poses a true test of courage.
- In the Bohinj Adrenaline Park, you can climb 14 metres above ground and try a giant swing.
- The Bled Adrenaline Park combines adventures for the entire family with various outdoor activities, including summer tobogganing.
- The Postojna Adrenaline Park has as many as 78 different fun obstacles featuring bridges, ladders, nets, ropes and wires for forest adventures.
- The Summer Park 7 Activities at Krvavec boasts a trampoline, a climbing tower, a slackline, frisbee golf, archery and downhill with a tube.
- Near the Geometric Centre of Slovenia at Vače, there's the Geoss Adrenaline Park, which among other attractions provides a giant zipline 25 metres above the ground, seven climbing courses and 97 climbing elements. A particular feature of the park is a forest exercise space for children (Geoss) and the option of spending a night in the treetops.
- The Funpark Menina in the Savinja Valley has two courses (for children and adults) with various stations and a zipline over the lake and across the entire camp.
- The Celjska Koča Adventure Park above Celje has 35 different elements in treetops and three polygons of various difficulty levels. There are also two ziplines with a total length of 829 metres.
- The Otočec Adventure Park features four adventure tracks with 46 adrenalin-pumping climbing adventures; two tracks are suitable for children aged 5 and above.
- The Peter Klepec Adrenaline Park in Osilnica invites you to experience the Flying Peter zipline, a giant swing, an abseiling wall and a leap into the void.
- The Bukovniško Jezero Adventure Park near Murska Sobota has 8-metre high elements and the Stork Flight with a range of 27 metres.
- Children as young as three can climb into the treetops in Maribor's Betnava Adventure Park.
- The Vurberk Adventure Park is situated in the vicinity of Duplek near Maribor, next to the castle of the same name.
- The Stari Vrh Family Park in the Škofja Loka Hills has six adrenaline courses, a climbing wall and a more than 400-metre zipline.
- The adrenaline park in the Cukarca Adventure Park near Šentvid pri Stični offers as many as 50 different exercises at four different heights on 500-metre-long trails. Here, in addition to adults, children from the age of 4 can also practice their skills.

WATER

FROM MOUNTAIN WATERFALLS,RIVERS AND LAKES TO

THE WARM SEA

Slovenia is one of the richest European countries in water resources. In every region, there are unique experiences on, in and by the water. Pannonian Slovenia is famous for its springs of healthy thermal and mineral waters, but also for calmer rivers and lakes. Central Slovenia between the Ljubljanica, the river flowing through Slovenia's capital, and the Kolpa, the warmest Slovenian river, provides an abundance of possibilities for water experiences.

Alpine Slovenia excites with springs, streams, waterfalls and whitewater rivers that also attract adrenaline lovers. Mediterranean & Karst Slovenia delight with the Adriatic Sea and surprise with mysterious waters which fill up Slovenia's largest lake in one season and then disappear underground in another. Among such diverse waters, even at first glance similar forms of fluid movement are in fact surprisingly different each time.

WILD AND EXCITING

The valley of the emerald Soča River is a world-renowned paradise for adrenaline water experiences. Many exciting adventures can also be found on the Sava Dolinka, the Sava Bohinjka, the Savinja and other beautiful rivers and their tributaries. Rafting, kayaking, canoeing, hydrospeeding, bellyaking and tubing can be enjoyed on Slovenian rivers. Canyoning, which combines climbing, swimming, jumping in pools, hiking and climbing natural slides and waterfalls with ropes, is an unforgettable experience. The gorges near Bovec, Kobarid, Bled and those in the Upper Savinja Valley are particularly known for this type of activity. Stay safe when engaging in adrenaline-fuelled activities. Use suitable equipment and hire guides.

BATHING AREAS ON RIVERS

There are many Slovenian rivers where visitors can find pleasant refreshment and relaxation. Bathing is permitted in bathing areas where the water quality is regularly tested. You can find such areas on the Soča, the Nadiža, the Idrijca, the Krka and the Kolpa, which is considered to be the warmest river in Slovenia. It has a long embankment, a riviera with numerous bathing areas. The camps along the river provide numerous activities and there's a large sports centre for water activities.

DIFFERENT EXPERIENCES ON CALM RIVERS

You can also go rafting on calmer rivers such as the Kolpa, the Krka, the Sava, the Drava and the Mura in eastern Slovenia. There are also opportunities for boating, rowing and SUPing. The latter is an option on the Ljubljanica in Ljubljana, the Drava in Maribor, the Krka in scenic Novo mesto and Kostanjevica na Krki and many other places.

FRESHWATER FISHING AND FLY FISHING

Sport fishing has a rich tradition in Slovenia and fly fishing is its finest and particularly revered form. In a country with over 27,000 kilometres of watercourses in a territory of 20,273 km2 and around 1,300 lakes of more than one hectare, it's possible to fish and fly fish among the Alpine peaks or while surrounded by Karst phenomena, close to the sea or the vine-growing hills, in the vicinity of towns or hospitable villages, but always with a feeling that you are truly far away from the everyday rhythm of the modern world. Of the total of 12,000 hectares of water surfaces, one third are salmonid waters and the remaining are mixed and cyprinid waters.

FISH SPECIE OF TWO RIVER BASINS

According to folk tradition, Slovenian rivers are sisters that compete in their search for the route to the sea. The Soča and its tributaries flow from the Alps to the Adriatic Sea, and the Sava with its tributaries flow to the Danube Basin and on to the Black Sea. The waters of the Adriatic Sea basin are the home of indigenous species, among which the marble (Soča) trout (Salmo marmoratus), the largest representative of the salmonid species, is particularly of interest. The most typical representative of the Danube River basin is the huchen (Hucho hucho).

No fewer than 93 fish species live in Slovenian waters. 33 species are protected. Approximately 25 fish species are suitable for sports fishing. They are being caught in 12 fishing areas of Slovenia.

Fish & Fly Trio is an attractive new project that challenges fly fishing enthusiasts to catch three indigenous fish species - grayling on the Kolpa River, river trout on the Krka River and marble trout on the Soča River. Fishermen are accompanied on the three-day experience by an experienced fishing guide, and guests are transported from one location to another by helicopter. Along with experiencing each river, fishermen can also taste local delicacies.

FLY FISHING IN OUTSTANDING SURROUNDINGS

The fly fishing tradition in Slovenia is over 100 years old, and its fly fishing school, which uses cleverly designed artificial lures made by local fishermen, is highly respected worldwide. Fly fishing is the only permitted means of fishing in certain Slovenian fishing districts. The most scenic fly fishing district is certainly the Soča River with its tributaries such as the Idrijca River. Fishermen attracted to this type of basic hunting are also drawn to the Sava Bohinjka, the Sava Dolinka, the Krka, the Unica, the Reka, the Radovna and numerous other rivers and certain lakes.

Keen fly fishing enthusiasts return to Slovenia for huchen, the king of Slovenian waters. The most suitable rivers for catching huchen are medium-sized rivers like the Sora, the Savinja, the Kolpa and the Sava Bohinjka. Slovenian rivers are an excellent choice for fishermen going after cyprinids (chub, barbel, cactus roach, carp) and pike that are caught by using streamer flies.

CATCHING CARP IN LAKES AND RIVERS

The largest carp caught in Slovenia weighed more than 34 kilograms. It's possible to catch large fish in Slovenian lakes and rivers almost all year long, the exceptions being during spawning season and when the surface is frozen. In addition to Lake Šmartinsko near Celje, where the record-sized carp was caught, other notable fishing districts include Lake Vogršček near Nova Gorica, Lake Slivnica near Šentjur, Lake Gajševci near Ljutomer and several other lakes, ponds and gravel-pit ponds. The best rivers for catching carp are the Ljubljanica, the Krka, the Pivka, the Vipava and the Sava.

NATURAL BATHING AREAS ON LAKES

Lake Bled boasts a superb Castle Bathing Area and four bathing sites with many opportunities for numerous activities. The Šobec Pond natural bathing site is in the vicinity of Bled and features a water park for children. Bathing areas at Lake Bohinj are arranged in the Fužina Bay and Ukanc.

In addition to bathing areas checked regularly by competent national institutions, you can also find other natural bathing sites. The Radlje ob Dravi Water Park in the Koroška region features a natural biological pool. The beach by Lake Velenje is one of the most well-maintained lake areas for recreation. You may also be tempted to take a dip in Lake Jasna near Kranjska Gora, Lake Bloke surrounded by the vast forests of the Bloke Plateau, Lake Podpeč near Ljubljana and many others.

LAKES FOR PLEASANT RECREATION

The lakes, which attract swimmers with their beaches and waters, also frequently feature water sports centres that lease a variety of sports equipment for relaxation and recreation. You can SUP, surf, row, play beach volleyball, football and basketball or engage in golf and other sports. Walking, hiking and cycling trails are often found in the vicinity of lakes. There are also guided programmes for different activities and extraordinary experiences on or by the water. Opportunities for pleasant recreation can be found at Lake Cerknica (when it is full), Lake Zbilje with its popular boathouse near Medvode, Lake Šmartinsko near Celje, where you can find a pontoon bridge across the water surface, Lake Sobota with the Expano Pavilion in Murska Sobota, on Lake Ptuj, which is famous for being a habitat for various birds, a lake next to Most na Soči and many other lakes.

PARKS FOR WATER FUN

Wakeboarding and water skiing, in which cables are used for additional adrenaline-pumping speed, can be enjoyed at the largest sports centre for wakeboarding and water skiing, Wake Park Dooplek near Maribor, where the largest trampoline in Slovenia can also be found in the adjacent water park. You can do acrobatic tricks at the First WakePark in Brežice on the gravel-pit lake of Boršt near Cerklje ob Krki with wakestation features such as kicker, rooftop, tube and others. Fun-packed adventures also await you at Lake Šmartinsko recreational centre near Celje where, in addition to the wakeboard cable, an array of other water activities can be experienced. The majority of parks also cater for beginners.

ATTRACTIVE BEACHES AND BATHING AREAS

The central sandy beach in Portorož, bathing sites in the Fiesa Bay near Piran, the Simonov Zaliv Bay and at the lighthouse in Izola, Koper City Beach and the Žusterna bathing site are great for swimming and bathing in the clean and warm Adriatic Sea. Experience the authentic touch of nature in Moon Bay in Strunjan Landscape Park and at Debeli rtič near Ankaran. There are as many as 21 outdoor bathing areas along the coast whose quality of water is controlled. It's also possible to bathe in seawater in the swimming pools of top hotels on the Slovenian coast.

Strunjan

VIEWS FROM SUP AND KAYAK

Beautiful sights on the Slovenian coast can be enjoyed while SUPing. While paddling a SUP and gliding over the sea, you can enjoy the views of Moon Bay in Strunjan and Debeli rtič or simply admire unforgettable sunsets. Attend a SUP course or a guided trip. A SUP board can be leased and delivered to the desired location. Trips with kayaks also provide magnificent views of the coast.

KITESURFING AND ADRENALINE ADVENTURES

Kitesurfing, windsurfing, water skiing – indulge in these water activities at the Seča Cape near Portorož and on the Lighthouse beach at Petelin Cape near Izola. Lease the equipment in Portorož, sign up for a kitesurfing or windsurfing course or attend hydrofoil racing practice sessions.

FASCINATING DIVING SITES

After a diving course on the Slovenian coast, discover the underwater mysteries along the attractive Madona Cape at the end of Piran's Punta, the Fiesa Reef and several other locations. There are relics from the Second World War in the Slovenian sea such as a sunken saboteur boat and the wreckage of a barge and hydroplane. A special diving site is the Underwater Triglav, the deepest point in the Slovenian sea (39.6 metres), which you can visit using specialised diving equipment.

SEAFISHING

Fishing from a boat, you can catch garfish, gilt-head sea bream, or the common pandora, and if you venture to the open sea you can even try to land the Atlantic mackerel and the common dolphinfish. During the colder weather, fishermen on the shore can successfully catch squid, cuttlefish and whiting, and also sea bass at the mouths of rivers and canals. A daily or weekly permit is needed for recreational boat fishing, but a permit is not required for recreational shore fishing.

A PLEASANT WIND IN YOUR SAILS

Sailing has a long tradition in Slovenia. A well-developed infrastructure enables the organisation of regattas, the dissemination of knowledge via sailing schools, the lease of equipment and even sailing trips. Favourable winds blow along the Slovenian coast and the best sailing conditions are from April to the end of June and between September and mid-November. The largest Slovenian regatta is organised annually in Portorož. More than 500 sailors compete at the Easter Regatta for the Optimist Class.

SPORT AND RECREATION IN HEALTH RESORTS

Those who enjoy the water know that Slovenian natural health resorts and spa centres are an excellent choice for relaxing holiday experiences, as well as water recreation. Their outdoor and indoor swimming pools enable recreational swimming in all seasons. Some even have Olympic-size swimming pools suitable for more demanding swimming and competitive challenges.

Most Slovenian health resorts and spa centres have water parks providing fun and water attractions and a rich offer of various recreational options in their surrounding areas. Slovenian health resorts that rank at the top of the Slovenian tourist offer are the perfect starting point for many forms of outdoor recreation and always the best choice for recuperating after various physical and mental constraints or for exercising and preparing for major recreational and sports challenges.

RELIABLE INFORMATION SOURCES

When planning active experiences, make sure you obtain suitable information before setting out. Check information at the national web portal www.slovenia.info, specialised web portal for outdoor activities www.slovenia-outdoor.com, and on destination web portals. For more specific information, visit the tourist information centres that you can find all over Slovenia.

Regarding local conditions, consult with the experts in the reception offices of accommodation facilities and directly with tourist experience providers. Enjoy your activities safely and responsibly.

CHOOSE YOUR STARTING POINT

All types of outstanding accommodation facilities located in the direct vicinity of outdoor recreational venues can be found in green, active and healthy Slovenia. Choose a hiking or cycling accommodation facility, a camp or glamping site in nature, a room or an apartment in a family or boutique hotel, an overnight stay in a mountain hut, or a break at a tourist farm. Facilities equipped with the Slovenia Green label deserve your special attention because they meet the demanding international standards of sustainable development.
